Garden Notes

Continue plantings of corn for roasting ears and running beans with it until late in July, the very last of the month to keep a fresh supply of these always ready for the table. Just as soon as the spring crop of Triumph or Cobler potatoes are matured, dig them and plant the small ones right back in a deep water furrow and cover deep. This done this month you are pretty sure to get a stand and make a fall crop. The spring crop in this section is generally said to be very poor and the tubers are so high in price that one can poorly afford to miss raising a fall crop. If you can get seed of the Lookout Mountain plant any time thru June or July and you are pretty sure of a crop.

Continue setting sweet potatoes to the middle of July if your patch is not filled out. The later plantings are said to make better and smoother potatoes, tho not quite so large.

We are this week planting late melons, both canteloupes and water melons, and expect melons till frost.

This is about the last week it will do to plant tomato seed for the last setting of plants. They should be in the rows by the middle of July. These late plants will furnish large fruits till frost while the earlier plants will then be furnishing only small fruits. Try a few.

Beets and carrots must be gotten planted soon to make a good fall crop for winter use.

Have you thought yet of the turnip patch? It should be deeply plowed now and harrowed till there is a good season in the ground in August and then planted. Late preparation causes more failure in turnip growing than in most any other garden crop.

Seed for fall cabbage and collards should be planted now so the plants can go into rows next month. They don't make heavy growth till cool weather but they get well set and better set out in July.

Teething babies always have a hard time of it when this process occurs in hot weather. They do not only have to contend with painful gums but the stomach is disordered, bowels loose and the body uncomfortable. The best help you can give the little sufferer is McGEE'S BABY ELIXIR. It corrects sour stomach, cools and quiets bowels and helps digestion.

Thanks

We take this method of extending our thanks to the good people of Somerville who helped and ministered to our loved one in her recent illness and death. These kindnesses will ever be remembered and esteemed by us.

Loggins-Hicks

A beautiful but very quiet home wedding was that of Miss Lillian Elizabeth Hicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hicks, and Mr. James E. Loggins, of Washington, D. C., solemnized last evening at the bride's home on Sycamore street. Rev. G. L. C. Richardson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church officiated, using the impressive Episcopal double ring service. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March," played by Miss Grace Workman. Miss Susan Hicks was her sister's maid of honor, and little Miss Anna Mary Soisson flower girl. Roy H. Heald, of Washington, D. C., was best man.

The bride is a graduate of the Connellsville High School, and was a teacher in the Crawford school. The bridegroom was graduated from Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, and George Washington University, of Washington, D. C., and is a member of the Kappa Alpha (Southern) Fraternity. He is now engaged in legal work with the U. S. Treasury Department in Washington. After July 1 Mr. and Mrs. Loggins will be at home in Washington.—Connellsville, Pennsylvania, Daily Courier.

Mr. and Mrs. Loggins are spending this week in Somerville, guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Loggins, and expect to return the first of next week to Washington, D. C., where he is an attorney for the War Risk Insurance Bureau, Treasury Department.

Dairying in Fayette County

By looking these records over carefully one will see a big variation in gross returns due to variations in butter fat. For instance, cow No. 16 gave almost as much milk as No. 14, but on account of a poor test there is $8.40 in favor of No. 14. No. 15 gave almost as much milk as No. 19, yet there was $7.53 more gross returns in favor of No. 19. No. 15 had the poorest test, it being 1.4 per cent., or 1.4 lbs. of butter fat to 100 lbs. of milk. Butter fat is less than butter, for 100 lbs. of butter fat will ordinarily make 120 lbs. of butter. This is due to moisture and salt added to the butter. No. 14 was the best cow tested. Her returns were $22.76. She was a good Shorthorn and was fresh in April.

Mr. A's herd consisted of grade Shorthorns with very little pure blood. The cream and skim milk amounted to 96.29, or an average of $13.75. No grain was given any cows under test.

Mr. B's herd consisted of many mixtures of Holsteins, Jerseys and Shorthorns, no pure blood. They averaged $9.62 for the month.

Mr. C's herd was made up principally of Shorthorn blood, but no pure bred sire was used. An attempt had been made to select by looks. As a result No. 15 held her place and ate as much as No. 14. The herd returned $107.15 in butter and skim milk for May or an average of $15.30.

The above will give one some idea of the possibilities in keeping a few cows and selling the cream and raising pigs and calves on skim milk.

One of the above men was shipping his cream, as are a few more in the county, and getting 65c per pound for butter fat, while two others on this list and many others in the county are making butter and trading for groceries and realize one half as much per pound.

The weighing of the milk and having it tested places your cow before the jury and the poor cows are sent to the block. She cuts down your profit, she takes labor, feed and care.

Testing gives a record for each cow. It means intelligent selecting, it leads to greater profits, it develops community interest, it puts your dairy operations on a business basis. At the end of the lactal period you know how each cow stands on the books. When you want to sell a calf from a cow that has a record you can cite facts.

The question was asked Mr. C.: "If you would go to the trouble to buy a cream separator, keep seven cows to build up your land and incidentally make a little butter, what would you be willing to do if a co-operative creamery could be located in Somerville?"

Reply: "I would keep three times as many cows, buy a pure bred sire and stop depending upon my neighbor's scrubby scrub; put up a silo, outline my farm for pastures and make dairying my main business instead of a side issue."

This also expresses the attitude of many others in Fayette county who are now seeing the land get less productive every year.

Dairying is carried on profitably in other counties of Tennessee, why not in Fayette?

The County Court and Tax Rate

The Falcon has endeavored to get for this weeks issue an idea of the probable action of the court next Tuesday, when it meets in regular July session, on the 1920 tax rate. The following conclusions are made from what we learned.

The Equalization Board has not yet completed its work in fixing values on the county property. It will probably take all the present week to complete these figures, even if can be done by that time. Some of the district tax books are not completed and are not at this date (Wednesday afternoon) available to the Equalization Board. After the board gets these books from assessors the figures must be gone over by the board and fixed, that is raised, lowered or accepted by that body. These books then as completed by the Equalization Board must go to Nashville and be passed on by the State Board before they can be accepted as the county's final values.

The County Court which meets next Tuesday will not be able to have at hand the figures of the State Board which are the final valuations for the county, and it can not be seen how the court can fix the tax rate at the regular July meeting of that body. These are our own conclusions from the conditions which we find at this date.

It is generally estimated that the value finally fixed for Fayette county will be about four times what they were last year. The figures fixed by representatives of the Chief Statistician's office last fall when they were here were about four times the past year's assessments and it is not believed these figures will be materially changed. In fact it has been told many a land owner in this county by assessors that the figures fixed by the State Board would be finally chosen as the values and there was no need to change them.

Further we conclude that the figures fixed on farm lands and small town property, towns such as Somerville and other towns in this county, have been raised in assessment far more than city property, the property of the railroads and the other large corporations. A few mineral tracts in East Tennessee have been raised tremendously and these raises have been flaunted to the four corners of the state for effect they would have, but it remains a fact that a few more weeks will prove true, these big business concerns have not been increased like the farmer and small town property owner, and when the final tax figures are made known the farmer will pay more dollars of taxes than he ever paid before and the big business will pay less dollars. Just watch and see if the railroads pay Fayette county as many dollars in 1920 as they did in 1919, and see if every farm does not pay more dollars.

The state figures have been about multiplied by four and the state tax will be reduced from 55 cents down to 25 cents. Is that cutting it by four the ratio of raise made in value? The Chief Statistician some months ago sent a statement to us and it appeared in these columns, advising that the county rate here should be about 39 cents. He assumes to divide the present county rate of $1.55 by four, almost, to fit the increase in values, but he does not cut the state rate in the same proportion. We figured for you at that time that under his figures Fayette county would pay $14,000 more to the state in 1920 than she did in 1919, an increase of almost exactly fifty per cent, and we predict that if we get off with an increase of fifty per cent we are doing well.

The county must have more revenue than it has had in past years. The income has not been as much as the expenses and this condition can not be continued. Therefore, the county rate will have to be more than 39 cents, and we predict that the county rate will be cut by four, can the county rate be cut by four?

We conclude, too, that the County Board of Equalization has been as honest and fair with the public as could be, but it remains for the State Board to pass on the figures adopted in most assessments.

Booze is Not a Good Cure

FROM THE AMES IOWA INTELLIGENCER

When a man comes to you all doubled up with pain and declares he will die in your presence unless you procure him a drink of whiskey, send him to a doctor or give him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. There is a mistaken idea among a whole lot of people that booze is the best remedy for colic and stomach ache.

County Fair October 7 and 8

An enthusiastic meeting of the friends of the Fayette County Fair was held at the court house last Saturday and a fair representation of citizens.

Hon. J. P. Matthews, for the past two years president of the Association, called the meeting to order and Hon. J. B. Summers was elected president for the present year, with K. B. Young as vice-president, W. T. Loggins secretary, H. P. Stainback treasurer, W. S. Latta general manager and W. J. Murrell assistant general manager.

The following board of directors was elected, one from each district, who with the six officers just named constitute the board: Wyatt Wilkinson, J. P. Perry, J. A. Johnston, R. T. Cross, E. C. Boswell, McCraw, A. V. Luck, J. R. Matthews, E. W. Dunn, J. F. Nebhut, P. M. Bishop, C. H. Rich, P. R. Beasley, E. C. Robinson, Robert Parsons.

October 14 and 15 were fixed as the dates on which the fair will be held and plans were made for getting out the catalog as early as it can be done so that exhibits may be prepared and ready when the fair comes on.

All prizes will be paid in cash as in the past and the money will be raised by private subscription just as it has always been raised. And every thing will be free to exhibitors and visitors just as in the past.

The fair in the past years has been a great agency for good in the county in many ways and the new officials are looking to the people of the county for the same cordial support in the enterprise this year that has been accorded the other officials in other years. To this end they invite the suggestions and help of people from all parts of the county in making the October fair the best ever held in the county.

Departmental superintendents will be named by a committee appointed for that purpose before the catalog is printed. The catalog committee was appointed and composed of J. B. Summers, W. S. Latta, A. A. Pryor, W. T. Loggins Miss Annie Brasfield.

Jewish Relief Campaign Locally

The Chairman of the Jewish Relief Campaign in this county, L. Lipsky, informs The Falcon that his committee was splendidly received this week in soliciting in Somerville and vicinity, securing this city's quota of $500. He is much pleased with the kindly way in which the committee was received here and the ready responses and liberal gifts made by the people of Somerville.

Friday he expects to make a tour of other towns in the county, none of them having been heard from to date.

The county's quota is $1500 and Somerville has given one third of it and Mr. Lipsky is encouraged to hope that he may be able to secure the full amount assessed against the county. The work continues thruout the week.
